

WEATHER—Generally fair; colder.

WEATHER—Generally fair; colder.

12 PAGES

The World.

12 PAGES

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1901.

PRICE ONE CENT.

SALISBURY WARNS; BALFOUR FLATTERS.

"The Queen was a Constitutional Monarch with restricted powers. . . . She ruled by sheer intellect and obeyed the Constitution. . . . The King has had the advantage of a splendid example."—LORD SALISBURY.

"The influence of the Crown in the British Constitution is increasing and must increase with the growth of the self-governing colonies over the sea."—BALFOUR TO THE COMMONS.

PREMIER TO EDWARD: MUST OBEY LAW!

WOMAN FOOLS THE POLICE.

The Detectives Could Not Prove She Kept a Poolroom.

Mrs. Philomena Schultz, charged with keeping a poolroom, laughed at the detectives who appeared against her in the Jefferson Market Court today and was discharged.

SAVED SISTER; BADLY BEATEN.

Harkins Found the Missing Girl on the Bowery.

May Harkins, a sixteen-year-old girl, of 89 Spencer street, Brooklyn, was sent to the House of Mercy today as a result of meeting her brother on the Bowery last night. Her friend, May Fitzpatrick, also sixteen years old, is in the custody of the Children's Society.

'PHONE THIEVES MADDEN POLICE.

"Specials" in the Big Buildings Growing Gray with Worry.

The talented thieves who steal 'phone instruments from busy offices are saddening the lives of "special officers" in big downtown buildings.

TEN YEARS FOR GIRL ABDUCTOR.

Judge Foster Expresses Abhorrence for "Red Light" Crime.

Ten years in prison is the punishment meted out to Abraham Magid, a married tailor, living at 114 Allen street, for causing a girl's downfall and then selling her to a Chrystie street disorderly house, where he appeared every day to take her earnings.

U. S. ASKS FOR BLACKWELL'S.

Wants It for Naval Drill Ground and Park.

The United States Government has asked New York City for Blackwell's Island.

DRIVEN AWAY BY HER SHAME.

Possibility that Tillie Jacobs Has Committed Suicide.

For a week the people of Northport, L. I., have been trying to guess who was the mother of an infant found dead in the Centropont mill pond.

WINTHROP'S WILL FILED; YALE MAY GET $500,000

The will of Thomas Buchanan Winthrop was filed today.

The will of Thomas Buchanan Winthrop was filed today. The testator appoints his son, Henry Rogers Winthrop, and J. Frederick Kernochan and William Jay as his executors.

BOY HIGHWAYMAN HELD FOR TRIAL.

George Dethier, a fourteen-year-old boy, was held today for trial.

George Dethier, a fourteen-year-old boy, was held today for trial. He was charged with robbing a man on a highway.

CROTON STREAM RAN TO WASTE.

Millions of Gallons Lost Through Elm Street Leak.

Chief Engineer Parsons's men, employed on the Elm street division of the Rapid Transit Tunnel, came upon an example of how the city's water is being wasted in the shape of a twelve-inch stream of pure Croton flowing into sewers.

Significant Speech in House of Lords by Aged Premier, Who Emphasizes the Fact that Monarch Has "Restricted Powers."

EDWARD VII.'S MESSAGE TO THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Following is the text of the reply which the President received from King Edward VII. in answer to his message of condolence on the death of the Queen:

WILL SPEND $50,000 FEES FOR MONUMENT

Register Howe, of Brooklyn, Will Erect Statue of Washington.

James R. Howe, the Brooklyn philanthropist and Register of Kings County, today made good his promise, when elected, that he would devote his office to some worthy object.

IVISON WILL IS UPHELD.

Old Publisher's Million Goes to His Nephew.

The will of William Ivison, the millionaire publisher, was sustained today in Supreme Court when Justice O'Grady directed the jury to find a verdict to that effect.

JAMES R. HOWE

THOS. WINTHROP LEFT $1,000,000

Trust Fund of a Half-Million for Widow—Children Provided For.

The will of Thomas Buchanan Winthrop, just filed, disposes of more than $1,000,000.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 6 P. M. Saturday, for New York City and vicinity—General: fair and considerably colder to-night; fair and continued cold Saturday; gale, northwest winds, diminishing Saturday.

Solid As a Rock.

The ballasted road-bed of the Pennsylvania Railroad insures a smooth and rapid journey to the Great West.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The speech made by Lord Salisbury, the British Premier, in the House of Lords this afternoon, moving the reply to the King's message, is construed here as a warning to Edward VII. that he is a strictly constitutional monarch and must not overstep the limits.

The venerable Prime Minister emphasized the course of Queen Victoria in closely observing the constitution. He laid weight on the fact that the Sovereign has "restricted powers," and had governed by strength of intellect and not by arbitrary methods. He believed that the new King would follow the example set by his illustrious mother.

On the other hand the speech of Arthur Balfour, the Government leader in the Commons, was a most laudatory of the King claiming that the Sovereign's power was increasing and would increase as the colonies came closer together.

New Policies Planned.

These speeches, taken with the summons by Edward to the Marquis of Lansdowne to attend him at Osborne, that he might present the Foreign Secretary to the German Emperor, has aroused a somewhat uneasy feeling that foreign policies may undergo a change, and that the King's hand will presently be felt in all matters of state.

Both Houses of Parliament this afternoon received identical messages from the King and voted congratulations on his accession to the throne.

In both Houses the galleries were filled with a notable gathering of Peers and diplomats. United States Ambassador Chenoweth, Henry White, the Secretary of the United States Embassy, and John H. Carter, the Second Secretary, and their wives, were in the galleries of the House of Lords, where Lord Salisbury moved the reply to the King's message in a speech full of emotion.

Lord Salisbury's Reply.

He said that in performing the saddest duty that had ever befallen him he was only echoing accents of sorrow, deeper than he had ever seen, of this nation, which had been called forth by the singular loss which, under the dispensation of Providence, they had suffered, and their admiration of the glorious reign and splendid character of the Sovereign they had lost.

Being a constitutional monarch, with restricted powers, she had reigned by sheer force of character, by the loveliness of her disposition, and by her aid on the helm of her subjects. The example which she set of governing by esteem and love would never be forgotten, nor how much she assisted in the elevation of her people by their simple contemplation of her brilliant qualities as wife, mother and woman.

Her wonderful powers of observing with absolute strictness the limits of her powers as a constitutional sovereign, and at the same time maintaining steady and persistent influence over the actions of her Ministers inspired the greatest admiration.

Her Wonderful Trust.

She always sustained a rigorous supervision over public affairs, giving her Ministers the benefit of her advice and warning them of dangers. No Minister could disregard her views or press her to disregard them without feeling he had incurred a great danger.

She had brought the country peacefully through a great change, from Old to New England. She possessed extraordinary knowledge of what people would think. He had always said that what he knew was the Queen thought; he knew for a certainty what her subjects would think, especially the middle classes.

He Warns the King.

THE KING CAME TO THE THRONE WITH THE ONE GREAT ADVANTAGE OF HAVING BEFORE HIM THE GREATEST EXAMPLE POSSIBLE. He had been familiar for a generation with political and

(Continued on Second Page)